Blue Crusher Dust

This product is the by-product from crushing clear stone. It is separated by screening the clear stone or in some methods it is washed out of the rock. It is called Blue, which is a Howard Little term, only because when it is placed on the ground and washed by rain it will turn bluish gray in colour. The primary uses for this product because it compacts very well, is for walkways, under floor slabs, and under above ground swimming pools.

The maximum size is 3/8" and smaller to dust. This is a very good product but will track into your home if wet when you walk on it when used on the driveway for top dressing.
